FEBRUARY 2010

FEATURED SPLASH GRANT TEACHER

Elizabeth Martin, Jefferson Middle School music teacher.

This May, Jefferson Middle School music teacher Elizabeth Martin plans to take her students to see a professional performance of Disney's Tony Award winning musical "Beauty and The Beast" in Chicago and is using her Splash Grant money to help pay for transportation. Ms. Martin wants to encourage her students to explore theater in the hopes of fostering a life-long appreciation of the performing arts. Along with seeing the performance for the pleasure of it, the students will take notes about the role that they will play in Jefferson's own production of "Beauty and the Beast". After the performance, students will meet with cast members! At school, the students will write about the show from the perspective of a theater critic or performer and will have their writings posted on the Jefferson website. Congratulations, Elizabeth!
